

“I didn’t know if what I was doing was helping”: A Qualitative Look at the Experiences of Social Workers during the Ethical Decision-Making Process

An Independent Study Project submitted to the School of Social Work, Faculty of Arts
McGill University

In partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Master of Social Work degree

Rebecca Pimienta
Submitted to Professor Pam Orzeck
Nominated by Dr. Tamara Sussman, TFEL Co-Investigator

Transforming the Field
Education Landscape